

Contents

Introduction

How Should We Approach the Understanding of Fascism?, Théo Boucknooghe, Université de Lille
p.6

We stand with Palestine: Voices of Resistance

NO OTHER LANDERS: Filming and screening against oppression and silence, Liat Savin Ben Shoshan & Sigal Barnir, Bezalel academy of Arts and Design, Jerusalem
p.22

Extracts and images from Borrowed Syndrome (2017), David Goss & Einat Leader
p.38

Two poems, Ella B. Winters
p.40

Influencer Tour, Shir Cohen
p.42

Feature 1: Visiting Hours, Saif Sidari

Interview with Tom Hull, University of Brighton
p.44

What is it that people are afraid of?

Denied Access, Finn Evans
p.50

Book Review: Who's Afraid of Gender?, Tea Lawrence,
p.51

Requiem Redux: A Chorus for the Present, Scott Ennis
p.54

Heads Above Water, Afra Nuarey
p.60

Book Review: Bluff, Elisa Cecchinato
p.61

International perspectives

Aestheticised Subordination: 'Trad-Wife' Influencers and the Gendered Violence of Far-Right Radicalisation, Kathryn Zacharek & Níamh Burns, University of Brighton
p.65

Critique of African Philosophy: Towards Pluriversal Epistemes, Luqma Onikosi, University of Brighton
p.80

From freedom to economic submission: a Laclavian reading of Bolsonaro in the 2022 elections, Lucas Garcia et. al., Universidade de Pelotas
p.96

Lyric Essay: In the name of Miley Cyrus. Strategical coverings of Milei's name in public spaces, Marc Pereyra, Universidad de Buenos Aires
p.102

Le « retour de bâton blanc » de la droite et l'extrême droite
australienne, 1996-2001, Emilie de Witte, Université Sorbonne Nouvelle
p.114

Feature 2: Crossings, Edward Doegar

Crossings
p.126

A Note in Three Parts
p.132

The power we have: what can we do now?

Book Review: Brick Dust, Natasha Jane Kennedy
p.133

Interview with the collective Affreux Marmots: Art, Resistance, and Affinity in Practice, Théo Boucknooghe
p.135

The Rising Tide, Reanna Valentine
p.142

Erasure poem, Eloise O'Dwyer-Armay
p.143

Interview with Bebe Ashley on Harbour Doubts, Eloise
O'Dwyer-Armay
p.145

Poiesis Against Empire: Negri's Aesthetic Theory and Palestinian Resistance Poetry, Gianluca Bellomo, ENS de Lyon
p.148

Feature 3: Interview with Falegnameria Marri

Dimmi Che, dimmi qualcosa, Natasha Jane Kennedy
p.164

Final thoughts

End note
p.172

Past and upcoming issues
p.174